

Dear Mildred,
 We enjoyed the evening with you and Mike so much. It was a pleasure to hear about your trip to New York. The meal was wonderful. We look forward to being with you all again soon.
 With love,
 Marianna

Laura Cross McKinley, the president and CEO of Oglethorpe Bank and chair of the Cabaret Committee for the Symphony Society, is herself a newlywed. Her thank-you note demonstrates an elegant way to say thank you for a cash gift.

Dear William and Frances,
 Thank you so much for your gracious gift. We truly appreciate your kind expression of love for us at this special time in our lives. We plan to use your generous gift to help one of our favorite charities, Harmony Square. They help at-risk children and always need financial support to facilitate their programs. We are very grateful to be able to do this on your behalf.

Warmest regards,
 Laura and Lewis

1950's Alligator Clutch	Gentlemen's Collection	Vintage Charm Bracelets
Hats on Main
Rebecca Lott 912-638-4658	at Antiques Etc.	Open Mon. - Sat. 10am - 5pm
1601 Newcastle Street Historic Downtown Brunswick

Mark Spaulding, the owner of Spaulding's Fine Menswear and a member of the Brunswick City Commission, knows that every invitation deserves a reply. One should R.S.V.P. to invitations promptly, even if declining. It shows good form to send a note thanking someone for the invitation even if you cannot attend:

Dear June,
 Thank you so much for inviting us to your home for your upcoming party. We know we would have a great time as you always are the greatest hostess. We must sadly decline, however. My best friend's only daughter is getting married that weekend (out of town) and we have already committed to that event. Thank you again for including us in your plans. We will miss seeing you.

Mark