

The last orange glow from the setting sun reflects in the water of Dean Creek on the South end of Sapelo Island near a spot known to James Banks Jr. as "Saw Pond" on Friday, December 12, 2008. This tidal waterway was a favorite fishing and cast netting spot for Banks Jr. and his late father, James Banks Sr., who died Dec. 4.