

"It's not about one person or one band. There's no spotlight on any one performer. It's about sharing the stage and getting a wide variety of good music out to the people that come to enjoy the atmosphere."

- DAVID DANTZLER

Open Mic Nights are hosted weekly on Monday and usually begin between 8:30 and 9 p.m. The Reagans offer a variety of menu options and the coffee is always hot. Free Wi-Fi is available if you get there early and want to surf the Internet or check your email while relaxing on one of the two couches.

Performers should arrive at 8 p.m. to sign up. Artists are allowed to perform regardless of talent for a "good, forgiving crowd." There are no special requirements for performers other than keeping it acoustic. ■

"My rugged outward appearance may be a bit deceiving. I'm actually a good wholesome girl with an infinite passion for music. I live for Monday nights."
